

Governor Abbott Appoints Brock To Pediatric Acute-Onset Neuropsychiatric Syndrome Advisory Council

August 6, 2020 | Austin, Texas | Appointment

Governor Greg Abbott has appointed Dr. Brandon Brock to the Pediatric Acute-Onset Neuropsychiatric Syndrome Advisory Council for a term set to expire on August 31, 2021. The council advises the commission and the legislature on research, diagnosis, treatment, and education related to pediatric acute-onset neuropsychiatric syndrome.

Brandon Brock, DNP, DC, APRN of Sunnyvale is a doctorate level certified family nurse practitioner, diplomat in chiropractic neurology, and a clinician at Foundation Physicians Group and Brock Integrative Medicine. Brock received a Bachelor of Science in Anatomy from Parker University and a Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Hardin Simmons University, he holds a Doctorate in Chiropractic From Parker University and a Doctorate in Family Nursing Practice from Duke University while doing post doctorate work as a global clinical research scholar at Harvard Medical School. He has also attended Duke Medical Center for specialization in orthopedics and has completed a specialized fellowship in regenerative medicine. He is currently working on a Doctor of Philosophy at Texas Woman's University.